

INFLUENZA: Combat the seasonal threat in your restaurant to protect guests, employees and your reputation.

- Influenza — often referred to as “flu” — is a virus that causes a common respiratory infection
- Influenza is easily passed from person to person via droplets produced when infected people cough, sneeze or talk
- Germs are brought into a restaurant by guests and employees and spread when a person touches a contaminated surface

Protect your restaurant's reputation and the health of your guests and employees with a Monogram Clean Force partnership.
